For Bobbie

```
D                G            D
I'll walk in the rain by your side,
     G            A7             D
I'll cling to the warmth of your hand,
     G      A7                D     G
I'll do any-thing to keep you satis-fied
  D                  A7      D
I love you more than anybody can.

        G         A7           D
And the wind will whisper your name to me.
G                 A7            D
Little birds will sing along in time,
G               A7        D        G
Leaves will bow down when you walk by
    D       A7         D
And morning bells will chime.

                   G              D
I'll be there when you're feeling down
   G             A7             D
To kiss away the tears when you cry,
G               A7          D              G
I'll share with you all the happiness I've found,
     D               A7           D
A re-flection of the love in your eyes.

         G             A7           D
And I'll sing you the songs of the rainbow,
    G              A7          D
And whisper of the joy that is mine.
G               A7        D        G
Leaves will bow down when you walk by
    D       A7         D
And morning bells will chime.

                 G            D
I'll walk in the rain by your side,
     G            A7             D
I'll cling to the warmth of your hand,
     G      A7                D     G
I'll do any-thing to help you under-stand,
  D                  A7      D
I love you more than anybody can.
